Medication Reconciliation

Allergy and Asthma Clinic, PC uses an electronic health record system in order to improve the quality of our services. This system also allows us to collect and review your "medication history". A Medication history is a list of prescription medicines that we or other doctors have recently prescribed for you. This list is collected from a variety of sources, including your pharmacy and your health insurer. An accurate medication history is very important to helping us treat you properly and in avoiding potentially dangerous drug interactions. By signing this consent form you give us permission to collect, and give your pharmacy and your health plan permission to disclose, information about your prescriptions that have been filled at any pharmacy or covered by any health insurance plan. This includes prescription medicines to treat AIDS/HIV and medications used to treat mental health conditions, such as depressions. This information will become part of your medical record.

This Release of information will remain in effect until terminated by me in writing.

PATIENT CONSENT FOR ALLERGY SKIN TESTING

The skin test is a method of testing for allergic antibodies. A test consists of introducing small amounts of the suspected substance, or allergen, into the skin and noting the development of a positive reaction (which consists of a wheal, swelling, or flare in the surrounding area of redness).

Prick Method: The skin is pricked with a applicator where a drop of allergen has already been placed.
Intradermal Method: This method consists of injecting small amounts of allergen into the superficial layers of the skin.

You will be tested to important airborne allergens or foods. These include, trees, grasses, weeds, molds, dust mite, and animal danders or foods. Prick tests are usually performed on your back, but may also be performed on your arms. Intradermal skin test, if necessary, are performed on your arms.

If you have a specific allergen sensitivity to one of the allergens, a red, raised, itchy bump will appear on your skin within 15-20 minutes. These positive reactions generally disappear within 30 to 60 minutes. Occasionally local swelling at a test site will begin 4 to 8 hours after the skin tests are applied, particularly at sites of intradermal skin testing. These reactions are not serious and will disappear over the next week or so. You may be schedule for skin testing to antibiotics, local anesthetics (caines), venoms, or other biological agents. The same guidelines apply.

Allergic reactions to skin testing are rare. Possible reactions to skin testing include: itchy eyes, nose, or throat; nasal congestion; runny nose; tightness in the throat or chest; increased wheezing; lightheadedness; faintness; nausea and vomiting; hives; generalized itching; and anaphylaxis and shock (sudden, severe generalized allergic reaction), the latter under extreme circumstances.

Please note that these reactions rarely occur but in the event a reaction would occur, the staff is fully trained and emergency equipment and medications are available.

I hereby Christina M. Abraham, M.D. to provide such additional services which may deem reasonable and necessary including, but not limited to, the treatment of severe allergic reaction in a hospital or emergency room, using services of the X-ray department, laboratories or hospitalization and that our office is not responsible for any costs associated with these treatments.

I have acknowledged that I have stopped all antihistamines 5 days prior to this testing as they may interfere with test results. These antihistamines include those by prescription and over the counter. Please let the physician if you are pregnant. Allergy skin testing may be postponed until after delivery.

I hereby state that I have read and understand this consent, and have had all of my questions about the procedure or procedures and treatment answered to my satisfaction.

I authorize Dr. Christina M. Abraham, MD to perform allergy testing if deemed necessary. The above named procedures may not be performed on all patients. No testing or procedures will be performed without my consent.

I have read the patient information sheet on allergy testing and understand it. The opportunity has been provided for me to ask questions regarding the potential side effects of allergy skin testing and these questions have been answered to my satisfaction. I understand at every precaution consistent with the best medical practice will be carried out to protect me against such reactions.

THIS CONSENT FORM IS VALID UNTIL REVOKED BY ME IN WRITING!

Allergy and Asthma Clinic, PC Insurance Benefits Explanation

Please note that any procedure you will have done, including skin testing, spirometry, and allergy serum will be applied to your deductible if you have not met it yet. Unless you have met your deductible/OOP, you will be responsible for paying for all services rendered during your visit. This total will be put towards your deductible/OOP, which will help you get closer to meeting the final amount for each. If you have already met your deductible/OOP, it will cover a percentage, up to the complete total of your final cost. Please call your insurance company and confirm if we are an in-network provider.

Below are the charges and diagnosis codes for common procedures performed in our clinic. The skin test cost varies on the amount of pricks and intradermals performed. For the prick test the code is 95004 and we charge $7.00 per prick. For intradermals the code is 95024 and we charge $8.50 each. Total cost varies based on the number of pricks and intradermals performed. A typical range is $400-$800. If skin test is denied by your insurance, you are responsible for cost. True test patch test has 36 patches which costs $360. Venom test (code 95017) is $15 per intradermal test. Please discuss your specific needs and concerns with the doctor, and which allergens you want tested and are concerned about. Serum cost is based on the number of doses in each vial and varies depending on the number of vials. If your insurance does not cover allergy serum immunotherapy (code 95165) you are responsible for cost. It is charged $16 per unit. You may need 1 to 3 vials depending on your allergies and skin test. For build-up: silver and green vials are 5 units per vial; blue vials are 8 units; gold and red vials are 10 units. Maintenance vials are 10 units, and the charge is $160 per vial. Allergy shot injection cost for single injection is code 95115 ($17) and for multiple injections code 95117 ($26). Venom shots are billed differently, please ask about cost prior to starting. The cost of spirometry (code 94010) is $45.00. Please ask the front desk about specific details and costs of the procedure performed, and they will be happy to answer those questions prior to the test being performed.

If you have any particular question on cost, please ask about this prior to the procedure. Insurance policies differ and deductibles differ. For specific details about your individual policy coverage, you can call your insurance company and ask about details of reimbursement for the above procedure codes and your deductible. On the day of your visit, an office visit will be billed since you will be seeing the doctor. If you do not have a copay and have not met your deductible/OOP, you will be responsible for the new patient or follow-up patient visit fee completely. If you do have a copay it will cover your visit fee. If you have met your deductible/OOP, it will cover a percentage of your visit fee based on your specific insurance plan. Please sign below that you understand our pricing and costs, and that all your questions have been answered to your satisfaction. I have read, understand, and agree to the above benefits explanation and my individual financial responsibility. I also understand that this estimate is provided as a courtesy to me and does not guarantee coverage by my insurance. In the event my insurance does not cover the charges, I will be responsible for any outstanding balance. Unless there are prior payment arrangements, accounts that have an outstanding balance will be subject to late fees. If your account is referred to the collection company, there will be a 20% additional fee added to the balance.
